Benedictine Sisters' formation group visits former monastery at Sand Springs

CLYDE, Mo.— In February, those involved with the Benedictine Sisters of Perpetual Adoration's formation program traveled to Tulsa, Okla., to attend a conference and took time to visit with Benedictine Sister Pascaline Coff, OSB during a side trip to Sand Springs.

"We had the opportunity to spend part of the day with Sister Pascaline, go to day hour and have lunch. Then three of us adventured out on trails for a couple of hours," Novice Clarisa Cutaia said. "My experience at Sand Springs was unforgettable even if we were there for just a few hours. It was a joy to revisit Sand Springs and to spend some quality time with our dear Sr. Pascaline."

Also attending the event were Novice Nancy Gucwa, Postulant Mary Hastie and Sister Rita Clair Dohn, formation director.

Sr. Pascaline has spent the past year at the Osage+Forest ashram during the time it transitioned from the Sisters' monastery into a private retreat center.
