Northwest's Tower Choir concert to air on KXCV: 'Some Aspects of Bliss' recorded at Benedictine Sisters' chapel

CLYDE, Mo.—A concert recorded in the Benedictine Sisters of Perpetual Adoration's hallowed Adoration Chapel will air on KXCV-FM beginning at 6 p.m. Thursday, March 4.

"Some Aspects of Bliss" was originally performed by Northwest Missouri State University's Tower Choir in November.

The 48-member choral ensemble was joined by accompanist Dr. Charles Badami and soprano Dr. Pamela Shannon. The program's theme encompassed the happiest aspects of life such as love, music, conquering fear and knowing of heaven.

Under the direction of Dr. Stephen Town, the Northwest Tower Choir performs nationwide at high schools, colleges and universities, churches and other organizations. Tower Choir has also worked with nine nationally-known choral conductors and has produced one CD, titled "Caritas et Amor: The Best of the Tower Choir 1999-2003."

The exquisite acoustics of the Benedictine Sisters' Adoration Chapel have made it a treasured site for music recording, offering a sacred space for singers to perform.

KXCV-FM is the area's National Public Radio affiliate. The concert can be heard over the air at 90.5 FM or via the Web by logging onto www.kxcv.org.
